SUMMER READING JOURNAL

Directions

1. Write intelligently about the readings.
2. Reflect beyond the literal meaning on the text.
3. Print out and use the bookmark on the following page.
4. Create a personal journal that is 2 pages written or one page typed, double space. You must use at least three prompts from the column: "Sentence starters..." to develop the content of your journal. Use the "Strategies..." column to guide you as you go. Be prepared to turn this in to your homeroom teachers the first day of school.
